Neighbors Object To Play Area Plan

By John P. Sawyer

Some West Andover residents believe a children's playground would be a "serious detriment" to their neighborhood and might cause "our beloved homesites and lifestyles to be destroyed."

A two-page letter, signed only by the words, "A very upset group of Andover residents" and sent to the town manager, the director of community services, two of the town's selectmen and the TOWNSMAN, details vehement opposition to what is called "the proposed playground" for the Cross Street, High Plain Road, Forest Hills and Brady Loop area.

"We simply think that this is not the place (for a playground) and that the addition of one would be a serious detriment to all of us in our area," says the letter. "...We beseech you not to permit our beloved homesites and lifestyles to be destroyed."

Community Services Director Joan Pearson said, "I have not proposed anything," adding that she is surprised her discussion with some other neighborhood residents about a possible playground at the corner of Cross Street and High Plain Road would hasten such reaction.

The site is a large town-owned lot once reserved for a possible school.

She added, "I tend to disagree...with their concept of what a playground entails."

In their plea to keep out a playground, the opposition links litter, traffic, vandalism, "drug abuse" and "teenage drinking" to the establishment of such a play area — something they say would lower the values of their homes and "the area status."

"Exclusive and 'very nice' areas never have, need, or desire public playgrounds in them," they say, adding in parenthesis, "We don't want to sound snobbish, but we think the area is at least 'very nice' and hope that you agree!"

Western Conserves Energy

The Merrimack Valley Works of Western Electric substantially reduced its energy consumption while increasing its production during 1981.

A 7.2 percent reduction in energy consumption was reported by the company which released the information during American Energy Week observed nationally from May 1 to May 8.

John Connors, a spokesman for the Merrimack Valley Works, credited a number of factors for the reduction. A major factor was transferring several departments from temporary quarters in Shawsheen to the main plant in North Andover. The move, he said, contributed to reducing energy consumption per square foot by 9.1 percent.

In addition, the proportion of energy to production decreased by 9.7 percent. The Merrimack Valley Works, Connors said, is heating and lighting its buildings more efficiently. The figures also reflect the cost of fuel for company vehicles.

Nationally Western Electric and its subsidiaries last year consumed 2.1 percent less energy than in 1980.

"The total reduction in energy use, while modest in its annual rate of decline, is significant in that it indicates a continuing downward trend," Connors said. "Western Electric has reduced energy consumption by 11 percent since 1973."

Despite less consumption at the Merrimack Valley Works and throughout the company, energy costs for the entire company climbed by 13 percent, an increase from $119.5 million in 1980

Elm Square Project Ready For Bid

The renovation of Elm Square, delayed by a year, may begin in August or September, the selectmen chairman said this week.

Chairman Norma Gammon said the state is scheduled to put the state- and federally-funded project out to bid by the end of the month, and construction could begin August 1. The project is expected to take one to two months to complete, Public Works Director Robert McQuade added.

Monday night, the selectmen signed a document stating that they are willing to proceed with the project, the final step before the state would solicit bids. The board also looked at final plans for the project.

On the drawing board for several years, the project will redirect the traffic flow in the square area, improve the landscaping, and reconstruct the roadway in Elm Square.

Work on the square was to begin last summer, but the plans had to be redesigned when downtown merchants objected to plans to reconstruct Main Street from the square to Chestnut Street. They said construction could run into the fall and hurt their holiday business.

The selectmen subsequently decided against reconstructing Main Street, except in the square itself.

Drive On Junk Cars To Begin

Andover plans to enforce a zoning by-law that requires the concealment or removal of junky cars from yards and driveways.

Starting Monday, building inspectors will drive throughout town looking for violators of the by-law, according to Inspector Michael Buss. Violations will be issued, and if the matter is not resolved in 10 days, a second violation will be issued. After 10 more days, the matter is given to town counsel.

Buss said it will take about two weeks to cover the whole town in the first round of inspections, and he does not know which streets in Andover will be inspected first.

Vehicles affected are unregistered cars, cars unfit for travel with no inspection sticker, and junky cars that are in plain view in driveways or yards or can be seen from adjacent properties. The cars must be removed or else put in a garage or totally concealed from view, according to the building inspector.

Salem, N.H. Gets Approval For Tie-in

If Salem, N.H., wants to join the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District, it's okay with Andover, the selectmen decided this week.

Chairman Norma Gammon said that during a brief meeting at Town Hall Monday night, the selectmen voted to let our New Hampshire neighbor tie into the sewage disposal system. Andover's partners in the district are Lawrence, which has also voted to admit Salem, and Methuen, which has yet to vote on the question.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade said Salem's joining the system would have no impact on Andover, except that it will decrease Andover's expenses slightly by adding a new partner to share the burden. The town has appropriated $386,618, as part of the Public Works budget, to pay for the disposal services during fiscal 1983.

Conservation Lands Are Spruced Up

In the last of the Appalachian Mountain Club's spring cleanings, the canoe launches were spruced up last Thursday, Louise Van Everen of the A.M.C. reports.

Philip Wormwood and Marilyn Lewis led volunteers, including Barbara Coffman and her grandson, Leo Soule, and Helen Wormwood, in cleaning up 15 acres of pine groves and trails along the riverfront.

Mrs. Van Everen commends all the volunteers for a "superb team effort of people digging in" to clean up the town's conservation lands this spring.

To give a further lift to the open space, the conservationists are now sponsoring a fund to buy picnic tables and benches for the reservations that have been cleaned. Contributions may be mailed to Mrs. Van Everen at 77 School St.

Dr. Emmons Re-Elected

William V. Emmons, O.D., of Andover was re-elected as vice president of the National Society to Prevent Blindness, Massachusetts Affiliate, Inc., at the their annual meeting at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Virginia S. Boyce, executive director of the society, told the gathering that Massachusetts led the nation last year in the award of research grants for the study of the causes and development of programs to prevent eye disease.

In Massachusetts, the society's programs to prevent blindness include sponsorship of Wise Owl Clubs aimed at promoting eye safety in industry and in schools, the distribution of vision screening kits which enable parents to test the vision of preschool-age children in the home and the operation of Project Bright-Eyes, which provided total eye care to senior citizens at no direct cost to the individual.

Preschool Recreation Offered

The Andover Department of Community Services offers four sessions of preschool playgrounds to children between the ages of 2½ to 6 years old this coming summer. The eight-week program begins Monday, June 28.

A Tiny Tot Playground will be held at the West Elementary School for children ages 2½ to 4 years. Children may be signed up for a full five day program or for a partial week (Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Tuesday, Thursday). Playground hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Children must be toilet trained.

A Preschool Playground will be held at Bancroft School for children ages 4 to 6 years. Children may be signed up for the morning session (9 a.m. to 12 noon) or for the afternoon session (12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.) Parents may opt to register their children for a full-day program; extended hours are also available (8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.).

The playground programs will offer arts, crafts, storytelling and creative play. The playgrounds promote socialization by allowing children the opportunity to meet and play with children their own age while under close supervision.

Courses

Beginning May 25 Merrimack College will offer seven workshop/seminar format courses for three undergraduate credits. The two-week, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday courses include Computers in Education taught by Prof. William Russell of the education department. Classwork as well as extensive practice on the Merrimack DEC PDP 11/70 computer system gives students valuable knowledge of the computer as a learning instrument. Minority Group Relations, taught by Prof. Peterson of the sociology department, examines prejudice and discrimination in the context of contemporary American society as well as possible resolutions of significant problems in a class setting emphasizing discussion and dialogue.

Three week courses, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., May 25 to June 11, include a studio course in drawing and color with David Raymond, chair of the fine arts department; Contemporary Moral Problems with Prof. Meyer of the philosophy department; Child and Adolescent Development with Prof. Socha of the education department, and Political Parties and

Public Opinion with Prof. deClercq of the political science department. Each course centers on specific issues, problems or skills and class sizes are restricted to emphasize the one-to-one teacher/student relationship that is considered the ideal learning climate.

Call the college for catalogues and registration materials.

Chiropractic and Pregnancy

From conception to birth, it's a wondrous process which turns a woman into a mother. During this period the woman's body functions at its finest with all "cylinders" working cohesively. Every detail of this process is orchestrated by the central nervous system.

The spine, which houses the spinal cord (the switchboard of the central nervous system) should be kept in optimal alignment during the entire pregnancy to ensure its proper orchestration.

During pregnancy, subtle changes occur which affect the musculoskeletal system creating back discomfort and other unpleasant symptoms. Because the baby lies forward in the mother, the spine is altered to accommodate the added stress. These stresses lead to spinal misalignment. Proper chiropractic care can correct these stresses thereby maintaining the integrity of the spine so the messages from the control center flow freely.

Call to arrange for a chiropractic consultation and exam.

B'nai B'rith To Install Officers

The Joseph Koffman Lodge of B'nai B'rith will have the assistant director of New England Office of the Anti-Defamation League, Ms. Lesly Weiss, as its speaker.

On May 26, the Koffman Lodge will be installing new officers for the coming year, after which Ms. Weiss will discuss the many problems that the Anti-Defamation League addresses in local, national and international area. All members, guests and friends are welcome. The program will be held at Temple Emanuel, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, starting at 7:30 p.m.

It is estimated that by 1985 the benefits from improved water quality throughout the country will amount to $12.5 billion from recreational use of water, a decline in waterborne diseases and a reduction of costs for municipal waste treatment, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

ABC Students Select Colleges

The long process so familiar to high school students of applying for admission to colleges, getting acceptances, and making those often crucial decisions about the best choice ended recently for this year's seniors in the Andover ABC (A Better Chance) program.

Valerie Holdip, ABC House president, member of the chorus in Andover High's production of Oklahoma, and peer counselor for high-school students, chose Middlebury College. Joseph Smith, captain of the Andover track team and president of the senior class at Andover High, will attend Oberlin College. Raymond Tirado, also in the chorus of Oklahoma and a member of the handbell choir, plans to enter Northeastern University. Diana Ramirez, star pitcher of the baseball team, plans her studies at Ithaca College.

Their decisions cap three years of study at Andover High and three years of dormitory life in the ABC House at 134 Main St. which have prepared them for the realities of group life away from home as college freshmen. The future graduates who come from New York City and Cleveland, have made new friends, broadened their own horizons, met academic demands to encourage those potentials which made them enter the program, and contributed their own talents and skills to the school and the community which they now regard as home.

The graduates will be honored at the annual meeting of Andover ABC on Sunday, June 6m, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of South Church. There, friends, supporters of ABC, host families, resident directors and tutors, and the ABC board will gather to greet them and celebrate their years of achievement while in Andover.

The meeting will also feature the presentation of the 1982-83 ABC budget and a preliminary report on the success of the current three-year fund drive for individual pledges which is expected to bring in $12,000 a year to support the ABC program. The following week will see other festivities including an ABC picnic and reception for the parents and families of the graduating seniors.

The public is invited to attend the annual meeting to learn about the accomplishments of the past year and future plans.

Itek Meeting

Itek Corporation's annual meeting of shareholders will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 2, at the company's offices, 10 Maguire Road, Lexington.

VFW To Install

League

(1972), Sue Tucker (1974), Joanne Marden (1976) and Virginia Cascino (1980), were in attendance. Linda Carpenter (1981) joined their ranks after turning the gavel over to Judy Medler.

Local positions derived from studies conducted over many years of league study and involvement were reaffirmed. The league uses such positions plus those from state and national studies to take action on issues during their program year.

Founded only one year after the National League came into being in 1920 with the winning of voting rights for women, the Andover League has enjoyed an active part in determining Andover's history. In 1923 there were 396 paid members, representing a large percentage of a much smaller Andover. Current membership stands at 168 and includes seven mae members. Membership is available for those 18 years old or older who are interested in citizen participation in government.

Aerobic Dancing Offered

A new concept in exercise comes to Andover. Aerobic Dancing LITE is an exciting exercise program created by Jackie Sorensen, the originator of Aerobic Dancing.

The LITE program is for men and women who choose to limit their physical activity to a brisk walking level. It consists of easy to learn dances for the non-dancer and promotes an exhilarating and fun way to exercise with friends. Other than the regular nationwide Aerobic Dancing program, Jackie Sorensen has developed two alternate programs — Mainly for Men and Aerobic Dancing LITE, both of which are offered in Reading.

Patty Anderson, 18 Enmore St., will be offering a five week course starting on May 26, meeting Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Andover Aikido on Brook Street. Mrs. Andersen has been a trained Aerobic Dancing instructor in Andover for four years.

Dr. LeMaitre Gives Talk At Hospital

A man in his mid-60s suddenly collapses in his suburban home with a heart attack. He is rushed to the nearest hospital where the internist on call admits him to the coronary care unit and becomes his doctor.

The man had a doctor in Boston, but none near home. When this emergency struck it was essential to get medical help near home. The man got excellent care and recovered, but it probably would have been better if he had chosen a local doctor in advance to be prepared for just such an emergency. Geography—how fast you can get help from your doctor—is one consideration in selecting a physician.

So said George LeMaitre, MD, a general and vascular surgeon with offices in Andover and Methuen, during a public lecture at Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence.

LeMaitre believes in a firm personal relationship between a doctor and a patient. This needs to be developed over time when the individual is healthy. "Most of us are well, but when illness strikes it may hit hard and suddenly," LeMaitre pointed out.

He urged those present to find out from their doctor when they were likely to be available and which doctors cover for them when they are not available.

The period of the single family doctor who was the general practitioner, surgeon, gynecologist and pediatrician and other specialists rolled into one is gone, but LeMaitre foresees a closer doctor-patient relationship developing in the next ten to 20 years.

The availability of specialists with in-depth knowledge of a particular medical field is important, but the care by these specialists will more and more be coordinated by a doctor who knows your family and personal health history and knows you as an individual, he said.

The development of clinics and clusters of doctors' offices nearer to where the patients live is a step closer to the early days of house calls and perhaps representative of an attempt to regain some of the neighborliness which once characterized the general practitioner style of health delivery, he went on.

Further in the future LeMaitre foresees the development of diagnostic centers where patients request some of their own diagnostic tests and tell the center to send the results to their doctor rather than the doctor initiating each request for a test, he said.

Two reasons LeMaitre expects people to become more involved and informed about their own health care are television programming and that the consumer will begin paying a bigger proportion of the cost of health care.

On Duty

Navy Seaman Apprentice Alan D. Paterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Paterson, 47 Abbot St., Andover, has reported for duty aboard the submarine USS Barb, Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Vallejo, Calif.

When the consumer is paying a sizeable portion of a medical bill that person will start to want to know why a certain test is needed or how long a hospital stay will be required, he said.

The Brilliance Beams After 11 Weeks Work

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The project went so smoothly that it "just seemed to want to be done." And after some 11 weeks of work, the result was a brilliantly-colored stained glass window that now hangs above the altar of St. Joseph's Church in Ballardvale.

The window was made by husband and wife Ted and Ann Traver of Andover, who won a design competition for the project last fall, besting three large stained glass companies that submitted competing designs.

Installed on May 10, the window will be officially dedicated at St. Joseph's 11:30 Mass on Sunday, June 6. It was made possible by a donation from the John Cronin family, in memory of Cronin family members.

The Ballardvale church will dedicate its new carillon on June 6 as well. Donated to the parish by an anonymous benefactor, the carillon rings out bell music each Sunday to signal the start of Mass and again at six p.m., and at noon and six each evening during the week.

Installed last week, the carillon consists of four loudspeakers in the tower and an amplified tape recording system inside the church. It can play tapes of 24 different hymns, each lasting about one minute, and more hymns will be added in the future.

The Travers are "really thrilled" with the way their winning design translated into glass, Ann Traver says.

"It came out just the way we had conceived it in our minds. We followed our plan, and it went just as we had designed it. We were really just terribly pleased because it went so well — it seemed to want to be done, and to come out right."

The rose window features at its center a flaming heart pierced by an arrow, the symbol of St. Augustine (St. Joseph's is a sub-parish of St. Augustine's parish).

Eight more religious symbols, each with a special significance, are set around the border of the window. Spokes of flame join the heart to those symbols, which alternate with four flowers, each signifying a quality of the Virgin Mary.

The window is done in bright rainbow colors, the Travers' trademark.

The design incorporates colors, symbols and shapes from the church's existing stained glass windows. And it is built in a wooden frame to match the wooden structure of the church.

Beginning in January, the Travers spent about five weeks cutting and soldering sections to fill 49 openings in the window's wooden frame, about 19 square feet large with a round opening for the window.

They used centuries-old techniques for cutting the glass and joining the pieces with lead cane. (They did, however, take advantage of modern tools like a glass cutter and a soldering iron.) Ted usually cut the glass, while Ann soldered the pieces together. Both shared in designing the window as well.

As they finished each section, they set it into the frame just to see how it looked — and one of the highlights of the project was the moment when they inserted the last piece and could see the entire window.

But there were still six weeks of work ahead before the window would be finished. Each section had to be glazed and cleaned and permanently set into the frame. The project was finally completed in mid-April.

The final excitement was seeing the window installed above the church altar, where before there had been only a blank wall.

"That was a very thrilling experience," Ann says. The window was installed by contractor Roger Ratte and his son, Joseph.

Now that a "very satisfying project" has been completed, the Travers have already moved on to their next challenge. They are designing two pieces, one for Beacon Street in Boston and one for Manchester-By-The-Sea.

Both happen to be windows — but on a much smaller scale than St. Joseph's new window, Ann Traver notes. "They don't compare at all."

They were given helpful critiques by qualified judges.

Receiving awards and medals for superior performances were Bart Kalkstein (trumpet), Bancroft; Jon Pratt (trumpet), South; Susan Wood (trombone), Sanborn; Wayne Buschman (trumpet), West; Lisa Sullivan (flute), West.

WESTern Round-Up

By Kristen James

In one week, on May 27, the faculty and student government of the West Junior High School will sponsor the 14th annual Western Bar-B-Que and Educational Round-Up in conjunction with the school's open house program. The theme will be "Westy Awards in a Salute to American Culture."

For the past several weeks students have been preparing for the Round-up. The educational portion of the Round-up will feature examples of student work throughout the building. Several programs and exhibits will be on display.

The highlight of the evening will be the annual music clubs' concert, involving several hundred students performing both vocal and instrumental selections.

The West Jr. High Outing Club, in response to member suggestions, has announced its spring program of activities. On Saturday the club will pack its gear and head for Ruggles Mine in Grafton, N.H., for a day full of mineral and rock collecting. A day of horseback riding at the Back Acres Riding Academy in Raymond, N.H., is planned for Saturday, June 19.

The club, under the direction of Mr. Taylor and Mr. Darrin, is looking for interested members to participate in a spring orienteering event. Orienteering, one of the fastest growing outside sports, is basically a race through the woods along unfamiliar terrain, using only a topographic map and a compass to navigate the course.

This co-educational, extracurricular club provides interested students with a variety of significant experiences.

West Parish Nursery School had a variety of field trips this spring, involving 20 students, teachers and parents.

First was a trip to the police and fire stations in Andover. The highlight of the morning was going to Friendly's for ice cream.

In March a trip to Lawrence General Hospital was taken. The children were shown a hospital room, physical therapy area and the xray room. All the future doctors loved it.

At McDonald's in May, the children were shown everything from the freezers to the grills and ice cream machines.

The school is preparing for its annual spring show on May 26. A field trip to Brigham's Ice Cream Factory is planned in June along with a trip to the Stoneham Zoo. The annual school picnic is planned in June for the last week of school.

East Junior High Happenings

By Jennifer Tucker and Tracy Lasch

With the arrival of warmer temperatures the "busy" season, too, has hit East Junior High.

The softball team continued their winning streak by defeating West for the second time this year. Outstanding players were, offensively, Rubina Carver, Jen Gagnon, Christine Gargalowitz and Dana Grogan, who hit a homerun. Defensively, Laura Hayes, Jen Ippolito, Jen Kirkland, Laura Scileppi and Betsy Murphy all played excellent games. We apologize for the error in last week's article where the team's record was stated as one win and two losses. These talented and spirited girls have actually tallied a five win, two loss record.

The baseball and track season have been equally exciting. The baseball team played Dracut Wednesday and the boys and girls track teams defeated Tewksbury on Monday. Last Friday the girls placed first at the invitational meet in Methuen. They have yet another trophy to add to the vast collection at East. Congratulations to all who competed!

The ninth graders, like all other students, are anxiously anticipating the coming weeks. Preparations have begun for the graduation ceremonies to be held the last day of school, June 23. The class trip will be to Salisbury Beach where students will enjoy a day of "sun and fun." The last dance of the year, for ninth graders only, has been scheduled for June 11. There will be a catered meal and yearbooks will be handed out. Kenneth Pellerin, coordinator of the student council, has been hard at work with ninth grade officers planning these and other events.

We would like to take this chance to thank our president, Scott Lattanzio, and treasurer, Betsy Murphy, for the fine job they have done throughout the year.

Last week "hat" day was held as one of the many events planned by the student council. Everyone is busily planning their outfits for "50's day" to be held this week.

Camp

three-hour block of instruction in both basketball and soccer each day.

The program will include lectures, drills, controlled scrimmages and games each day in both sports with extra emphasis on fundamentals.

Barry Kipnes, boys basketball coach at North Reading High School, and Dave Canan, girls basketball coach and assistant boys soccer coach at Masconomet High School, are co-directors.

Other members of the staff are soccer coaches, Len Emmons of Masconomet and Roy Condon of North Reading, and basketball coaches, Henry McCarthy of Winthrop, Rich Butterworth of Danvers, Tom Gallagher of Chelmsford and Bucky Tardif of Methuen.

Tsongas

Senator Paul Tsongas is sending staff member Shirley Simons to meet with residents from Lowell, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Andover, Dracut and Billerica on Thursday, May 20, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Council Chambers at Lowell City Hall. The informal question and answer session is open to the public and individuals are met on a first-come, first-served basis.

Housing, Social Security, immigration, elderly concerns and student loans are among the topics that many residents have raised. In addition, the subjects of nuclear freeze, workmen's compensation and postal and military matters are also discussed.

The seventh and eighth graders have voted in the primaries for class officers for next year. We congratulate those going to the final elections and thank those who competed who helped to make it a great campaign. Results of the final elections will be in a later article.

Round-Up

cant and worthwhile experiences in the outdoors.

When it comes to spring sports most of the West teams are tops. This week the boys baseball team added another victory to their record. West defeated Tewksbury. Bob Charland and Paul Lambers hit homeruns while Bill Weidman was an outstanding pitcher. The West Junior High track team, under the coaching direction of Mr. Darrin, also had success. The boys team came in first on Friday while the girls came in second. Keep up the good work!

The girls softball team, under the coaching supervision of Mr. Gangi and Mr. Kennedy, has been practicing for several weeks. Representing West are Katie D'Urso, Kim Giammasi, Beth Snow, Kathy Neaves, Christine Hashem, Sue Sellers, Rhonda Lacy, Linda Farr, Kim Orbe, Heather Paro, Jennifer Morris, Jennifer Star, Renee Marchand, Ann Marie Conron and Kelly Johnson.

Also on the team are Dodie Powell, Lisa Gagliardi, Lisa Tyson, Sandy Saba and Ellen Murphy. Co-captains are Cindy Connor and Kay Levesque. Good luck in your season!

Gift Ideas

For Graduates

Looking for an idea to give this year's high school graduate? Leslie Baskin, young adult librarian, has compiled a portable paperback reference library designed for graduates on the go. Invaluable for the student heading to college, seeking a job or developing a hobby, the book list is now available for patrons in the main reading room of Memorial Hall Library.

The Basic Camera course covers camera controls, how a 35mm camera works, shutter speeds, depth of field, film, lenses and composition. The course is designed to help the beginner understand the camera's functions, handle light situations and improve photography techniques.

Photographic Printing for Black and White is a six-week course which will include all types of dark room printing techniques for black and white, resin-coated paper, contacting, fiber based and archival printing.

Contact the college for more information.

Church To Install Minister

The Rev. Rosemarie C. Smurzynski will be installed as minister of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover Sunday, May 23, at 4 p.m.

This Service of Installation is a celebrative occasion which marks the formal recognition by the church of its new minister. An exchange of pledges, The Act of Installation, will be made between the minister and congregation. These pledges are a covenant each makes with the other and signify the hopes and vision the church has for itself and its new minister. Leading the church in this Act of Installation will be the president of the congregation, Robert Genier.

Readings in the service will reflect the congregation's views on religious education, worship and the meaning of the liberal church to its members and friends. Readers are Karen Paterson, Elizabeth Nicholson and Joseph Zahka. The Rev. David C. Pohl, director of the Department of Ministry of the Unitarian Universalist Association of Churches, will preach the sermon, "The Three Rs of Ministry." The Charge to the Congregation will be delivered by The Rev. David M. Blanchard, minister of the North Parish, North Andover. Rev. Leslie Arden Westbrook will deliver the Charge to the Minister. The Rev. Charles Wesley Grady, Rev. Smurzynski's minister prior to her entering the ministry, will offer the Prayer of Installation.

The Rev. Jean McKnight Rickard will give the Invocation. Linda Lee Schulz, vice president of the Mass Bay District of Unitarian Universalist churches, will deliver greetings from that group, and the Rev. Dennis Kohl, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, will represent the Andover clergy.

Rev. Smurzynski began her ministry at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover on Dec. 1, 1980. Prior to that she was Interim Minister at the First Unitarian Church of Belmont. She graduated from Harvard Divinity School in June 1980. Rev. Smurzynski is also an accredited director of religious education and has directed liberal church schools in the Boston area since 1974. She is married to Tom Smurzynski, a Boston patent attorney, and has two teen-aged children, Ken and Marlene.

The Service of Installation will be held at The November Club, 6 Locke St., present site of the Sunday morning worship services and church school activities.

Rev. Rosemarie C. Smurzynski

To Observe Children's Day

The Ballard Vale United Church will mark the seventh Sunday of Easter with its annual observance of Children's Day. This is a time for the church to celebrate the ministry of each child in the church. This year's theme is "The Finger of God can be Felt in the Touch of Each Star Child's Hand." During the worship service the children will sing two songs, "The Church is a Very Special Place" and "Thank You." They will also share a very special gift with all the adults present. The service will close with a word of appreciation for all the church school teachers and gifts of plants to all children present. The day's activities will begin with an open house for all children and their parents in the church school at 10 a.m. with the Children's Day Service at 11 a.m. Adults and youth classes will meet at 9:30 a.m.

C.E. Dinner

Sunday, May 23, a celebration for the whole family will be held at South Church from 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. A chicken dinner will be served, followed by slides showing Christian Education groups (youth to adult) involved in their many activities. Reservations for the dinner can be made by calling the church office.

Members of the Parsonage and Pastor/Parish Committees will serve as hosts at an open house at the parsonage following the service. Over the past several weeks the parsonage has been redecorated and this will give church members an opportunity to see what has been done.

Earnings Higher At Standex

Standex International corporation (NYSE) reported slightly higher earnings on a slight sales decline for the nine months ended March 31, 1982, as compared with the same period in the prior year. The company attributed the "Lackluster results" to the "hostile economic climate," severe winter conditions and the depressed conditions prevailing in the housing and automotive industries.

In the announcement, Daniel E. Hogan, chairman and chief executive of Standex, stated that "while we see very little daylight as yet, there appears to be a slight improvement in several of our important areas of operation." He added that "with several major industries experiencing severely depressed conditions, and with consumer spending all but dried up, it is difficult to forecast any sharp or rapid upturn in the near future."

In the nine months ended March 31, net income amounted to $11 million, or $1.63 per share, up slightly from last year's $10.8 million, or $1.61 a share. Sales for the latest nine month period amounted to $276.3 million, down slightly from last year's $276.5 million.

In the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, net income amounted to $3.5 million, or 51¢ a share, down from $3.7 million, or 55¢ a share, in the prior year. Sales in the latest quarter amounted to $91.2 million, down from $95.3 million in last year's third quarter. Earnings per share in the latest periods were based on 6.7 million shares outstanding.

Hogan pointed out some definite "bright spots" in the present situation at Standex. "Some operations are feeling a slight improvement in the pace of incoming orders," he said. He mentioned "improving results" in such areas as food service and institutional products, texturizing, electronic components, publishing and binding.

Hogan added that Standex has significantly strengthened its financial position despite the severe economic conditions. Over the past 12 months, Standex has eliminated $6 million in debt and increased shareholders' equity by $6 million. Standex currently has a book value of $19.43 a share, working capital of $14.21 a share, and a current ratio of 3.1 to 1.

Standex International is a diversified manufacturer operating in five basic growth areas: institutional products, consumer products, graphics, industrial products and electronics.

were well below the first quarter of last year, while those of the Braun Group were moderately higher.

Mockler said that both sales and profits from operations in the first quarter were adversely affected by continuing recessionary conditions in retail sales in the United States and in many countries abroad, and by lower foreign currency rates of exchange.

In addition to the effect of currency rates on sales and profit from operations, net exchange losses relating primarily to certain Latin American currencies were $6.8 million, compared with $2.3 million in the first quarter of last year.

"Looking ahead to the remainder of 1982," Mockler said, "while recessionary trends continue in many countries and foreign currency exchange rate uncertainties persist, our market shares remain at high levels. This market leadership, along with the launch of new products, should help us to continue to make good progress towards our long-term corporate growth objectives."

At its meeting, The board of directors of The Gillette Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 52½ cents per share, payable June 4, 1982, to stockholders of record May 3, 1982.

Gillette Earnings Lower

Sales and earnings of The Gillette Company were below the corresponding quarter of 1981, Colman M. Mockler, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer, told the annual meeting of stockholders at Andover.

Sales for the three months ended March 31 were $533,718,000, a decrease of 9 percent from $588,228,000 in 1981. Profit from operations was $78,369,000, down 9 percent from $85,829,000 a year earlier. Pretax income was $56,545,000, compared with $67,663,000 in the first quarter of last year, down 16 percent. Net income of $32,818,000 declined 19 percent from $40,767,000 in 1981. Earnings per share of $1.08 compared with $1.35 the prior year. Results for 1981 have been restated to reflect accounting changes resulting from application of the new Financial Accounting Standard No. 52 covering foreign currency translation.

Sales of the company's major operating units, Gillette North America, Gillette International and the Braun Group, were down from the level of the first quarter of 1981. Operating profits of the North America and International units in the quarter

The Many Faces Of "Clown Town"

The Andona Society held their annual Clown Town last weekend to the delight of children of all ages. The event offered games, rides, hamburgers and hotdogs, sweets, and many colorful clowns. Photos clockwise from left side series: The making of a clown. Three-year old Jackie Glazebrook, 86 Haverhill St., caught the spirit of the day and was pleased with the results that a little make-up brought about; The "Sizzler" brought some different reactions from those who took a spin. Hanging on are Bobbi and Apryl Williams, 8 Candlewood Drive, and Michelle Franz, 18 Exeter Way; With her bright clown face on, Kerry Mederios, 63 Bridle Path, tries to decide on a hat; Two-year old Michelle Yu, 4 Pepperidge Cir., enjoys her hotdog while her dad holds on to her balloon; Getting a feel of the wheel are Erica Perry and Kelly Barr of Lawrence; Kim Center, 385 High Plain Road, uses a friendly face to blow up balloons.

Shattuck, Bradlee Efforts Rewarded By Historians

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The efforts of Andover officials to save the Shattuck Farm buildings from destruction and rehabilitate the Bradlee School have won the town a 1982 Preservation Award from the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

The state honored the Andover Historical Commission for its "catalytic role" in assuring the reuse of historic properties, particularly the old farm buildings and the Ballardvale school building.

The commission received a plaque at a state dinner earlier this month, when 14 other winners were also honored. Andover Historical Commission Chairman Philip K. Allen last week presented that plaque to the selectmen, and it will soon hang in the Town Hall conference room.

"I feel terrific that I had the opportunity to work on both the Bradlee School and the Shattuck Farm projects," Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon commented. "I hope we can save more buildings. The historical commission has done a terrific job."

The commission last year spearheaded a campaign to recycle the Bradlee School into multi-family units. The school had been abandoned for 25 years, and had deteriorated into a blight on its Ballardvale neighborhood.

The commission helped draw up guidelines for developer's proposals for the school, and last year, annual town meeting voted to sell the building to developer Francis P. Reilly, as the commission recommended.

Because they stood on land owned by Digital Equipment Corp. in the West Andover Industrial Tech Park, the historic Shattuck Farm buildings seemed doomed to destruction. Digital had no use for them.

But the commission last spring helped find a buyer willing to move the three old buildings: Terrance and Patricia Sullivan of High Plain Road. The Sullivans moved the buildings to a site next to their home, and plan to renovate them into homes for their children.

In both cases, the exteriors of the buildings will be restored to their original appearance.

Other winners of the state's fourth annual preservation awards included the Arlington Trust Company, for preserving three commercial facades, including a large facade on Essex Street in Lawrence; the Old Bridgewater Historical Society, for such work as restoring the oldest parsonage in the country (the Keith James Parsonage).

"I Have a Plan"...Grasso "It's The 27th Hour"...Seifert

By John P. Sawyer

Is the issue whether Andover's school system is top heavy with administrators? "He (Schools Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert) has surrounded himself with all these support personnel," says High School Science teacher Gerry Grasso, "...to such an extent they have a whole building right now."

Or is it becoming a matter of a school teacher and his superintendent in public disagreement over that issue?

"It's very dysfunctional in the 27th hour," says Seifert, "to say let's do this thing (the school budget) all over again."

It all started about two weeks ago when Grasso appeared before the Andover School Committee to note the number of administrators in the school system as compared to the number of teachers. A total of 17 teachers have been cut from next year's school budget (23 all together, including those cut due to declining enrollment) in this the second year of Proposition 2½.

"During the eighties," Grasso told committeemen, "the number of students and teachers has not changed significantly from the mid-seventies; however, a number of programs have been cut, the number of support personnel has increased and the apex of the pyramid has become a wide base of supervisors, advisors, associate administrators and their assistants."

Seifert responded last week that Andover is less than the state average on administrative costs and above the state average on instructional costs.

This is a year of budget cutting, but he said Grasso never came forward through the years when teachers were actually added to the staff. And not only that, but anyone, said the superintendent, who would make the charge of excessive administration without presenting an alternative plan for cutting the budget is "not responsible." He said he would welcome such an alternative organizational scheme that works.

"I have a plan," says Grasso this week. "I think we should maintain every program that we have in the high school today. He (Seifert) should then look into his maintenance or support staff" to make cuts that don't directly affect the teaching process.

"If he wants my help, I'd be glad to sit down with him," Grasso notes, "but he'd have to come up during my lunch period. It's the only time I have."

He says his teaching job doesn't provide for time during the day to work on budget figures, adding that Seifert "never asked anybody for an alternative plan." He explains that Proposition 2½ and the cutting of teachers are reasons for him coming forward at this time.

Seifert stated this week that all the talking about Proposition 2½ cuts was done during budget deliberations, and that is the time people should get involved "so that they have an understanding" of the situation. He says Grasso was getting involved after budget decisions have been made

Gerry Grasso

He also says there were other ways for a teacher to air his opinions — through a faculty administration forum at each school or by talking to school representatives in the teachers association. The officers of the

Pole Hill Modifications Win Approval Of Planning Board

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Acting a week ahead of schedule, the Planning Board Monday night approved modifications to plans for a 15-lot Pole Hill subdivision, along with preliminary plans for a 30-lot development on the tea lots.

That approval makes it more likely that the town's agreement to swap Pole Hill for the tea lots with developer Arthur Kalogianis will be realized. The agreement depends on the planners' final approval of plans for both the hill and the town-owned tea lots, located off Ballardvale Road and Woburn Street.

After discussing both sites in public hearings last week, the planners said they would probably vote on the plans May 25. But this week, Kalogianis, owner of T.D.J. Development Corp., requested that the vote be moved up to meet the requirements of his bank agreement, according to Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore.

Plans for the "Waterford Place" subdivision, approved last summer, called for 69 homes to be built in a cluster development on Pole Hill, overlooking the Shawsheen River.

The planning board this week approved a modified plan that will see 14 homes built there instead (next to an existing house), in a cluster development around a cul-de-sac, "Pole Hill Drive," off Tewksbury Street.

A remaining 34 acres on the hill will be deeded to the town as conservation land, as part of the swap agreement.

The planners' conditions on their approval address potential drainage problems on the hill. And, Gilmore said, they are still concerned that the public will be granted access to an ancient "cart path" that runs down the hill to the river.

They also requested that Pole Hill Drive be reduced from 50 to 40 feet wide. That would reduce the amount of cutting and filling along the roadway, making soil stabilization after construction easier to achieve, Gilmore indicated.

Neighbors of the proposed 22.9-acre "Tea Lots Estates", during last week's hearing, seemed most concerned about their privacy.

The planning board therefore required, in their approval of preliminary plans for that development, a 30-foot conservation area along the back of the subdivision, abutting Tilton Lane. Tea lots property-owners will be forbidden to cut down trees in that area, except for normal maintenance. The town will have the power to enforce that condition.

In addition, the developer will be required to plant three-foot tall pine trees along a 10-foot green area off Ballardvale Road, to further ensure neighbors' privacy.

The planners also instructed the developer to submit information on how the tea lots' two cul-de-sacs off Ballardvale Road (there is also a smaller one off Woburn Street) would effect Ballardvale Road.

Last week, an attorney representing an abutter said that the new streets would aggravate existing drainage and traffic problems along Ballardvale Road that are caused by a pronounced crown in the road.

Work is already well underway on Pole

Hill, where Kalogianis has said he will build the new homes himself.

However, he will not build on the tea lots, he said, but will sell that development to another builder. He plans to begin building the cul-de-sac off Woburn Street this year and the remaining two next year, he said last week.

AHA Appointee Brings Experience To Board

Marv Jane Powell of Cheever Circle, a five-year veteran of the Andover Housing Authority, has been appointed to that board to fill the vacancy left by Thomas R. Walsh, who recently resigned.

With the loss of both Wallace and Housing Authority Executive Director Thomas Walsh, who died last week, the Board of Selectmen felt it was important to appoint someone with experience, Selectmen Norma Gammon said this week.

"She knows about the housing authority, the ins and outs of it," Gammon explained.

"We strongly felt that we would need her background, and that she would be able to help us appoint another new member (to replace Walsh).

The board appointed Powell to a one-year term last week, after interviewing six candidates in a joint session with the housing authority.

Powell served on the authority as the governor's appointee from 1976 to 1981. During that time, she helped obtain funding for the new units now under construction

Editorial Comment

It's The Inconsistency

Andover's selectmen last week displayed their unusual trait of being consistently inconsistent.

They denied a request of a Shawsheen resident to park on the street during winter months, because there is no driveway or garage with the Windsor Street property.

But, last fall, a similar request presented by residents in another section of Shawsheen were given approval to leave their vehicles on the street during winter months, despite objections by both the public works director and police chief.

It should be pointed out that denial of the request a week ago is a proper move.

What is at issue is the approval for some residents, while another is denied.

Those who were allowed to park overnight while the remainder of the town arranged to conform to the off-street parking regulations pleaded their case based on the inability to put the vehicles on the lawn, or build driveways and the inconvenience of having to park the car down the street.

It would seem that the same conditions apply to the more recent request, yet there as no question of denying it by the selectmen.

It is difficult to comprehend the logic.

It was pointed out to the selectmen then, and the reasoning still is valid, that the off-street winter parking regulation is applied to facilitate snow removal and promote public safety during the difficult months.

Both the DPW director and police chief emphasized that in many areas of town imposition of the regulation provides a hardship to many residents. They face the inconvenience of having to find an off-street location for their vehicles, whether it be through rental of garage space, or moving the car some distance from their residence to vacant or leased land.

Both municipal officials emphasized that to provide relief to a few was unfair to the hundreds who have to make proper arrangements to conform to the law.

The regulation is adopted in order to benefit the entire community and should not be subject to exceptions.

What the selectmen did last week in denying the request was proper.

It's just the inconsistency in applying the policy and the intent of the law to the community as a whole as evidenced by last fall's decision that presents the problem.

The Public Forum

Give Planners More Clout

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The drainage problems at the Turner Farm are real. Improper planning of house location and drainage can only lead to a long-term problem for the prospective owners of the properties. The proposed cluster lot configuration is the only method the developer can optimize the number of buildings on this parcel of land. The plot plan will, however, create long-term problems for those that purchase the properties. A similar situation exists in many areas of Andover. Proof of this is that many home sites are continually on the market. Once the buyer passes papers he soon realizes that the ground water and drainage problems are too costly to bear, so he sells out.

One apparent problem is that of the "chopped up" plot plan for each land parcel. The proposed layout necessitates very long driveways that lead to a main roadway exiting opposite Orchard Street. The location of these driveways on the south side of the property between South Main Street and the apple orchard some 500 feet west of South Main Street are located over a stream that crests at two to three feet in the spring. The entire area is a natural water shed. The ground absorbs this water and thereby controls flooding further downstream—that is, the homes on Ballardvale Road and south to the new developments now being built. In a winter such as we just experienced the owners will not be able to exit due to the high water table (without a boat).

This area could never pass percolation test for home sites—therefore, the reason for cluster zoning. Likewise, the planned parcel to be turned over to the town as conservation land is totally useless. This parcel is very low and a stream runs from the Pike School towards Ballardvale Road. The round is totally saturated to use this parcel of land for homebuilding would require rerouting (or burying) the stream. A cost prohibitive task in the eyes of the developer. The solution—give it to the town. A problem of liability now exists if the town accepts this parcel. An accident—such as a child drowning—would now be the town's responsibility. Does the town have funds to clean up this area? I doubt it.

On the northern side of the property, adjacent to Hidden Road, the land is saturated with effluent from the Hidden Road homes. Successful percolation of this area is doubtful.

When addressing these problems to Mr. Gravalles at last January's meeting, the planning board chairman indicated that he had no power other than accept the plan as proposed by Magee Construction. If this is so, what purpose can the Planning Board satisfy other than being a rubber stamp to accept questionable development plans?

A review of other areas of Andover indicates that builders have continually been allowed to build on lots of questionable quality. Homes literally under water during wet seasons.

I suggest that the Planning Board be given more clout in their decision-making to insure that future residents of Andover be protected from "hidden problems." The attitude of the builder and real estate agent of "Let the buyer beware" is nothing less than irresponsible.

Tigers 15 - Twins 1

After dropping the opening game of the year, the defending town champion Tigers picked up their first win with a 15-1 victory over the Twins.

Twelve-year-old Bengel pitchers, John Moossa and Scott Wallace, combined to pitch the first no-hitter of the year. The game was called in the middle of the fifth due to darkness. Moossa went the first three innings on the mound in his first ever pitching performance to gain the victory. He struck out eight and walked three in a very impressive outing. Wallace came on in the fourth and struck out three while walking two for his first save of the year.

Leading the nine-hit attack was Steve Howes (three-for-three) and Dave Vickers (three-for-four). Andy Pauline's run scoring double in the first was the only extra base hit all day. Wallace scored three runs as a result of walking five times in the game. Other run scorers were Howes and 10-year-old rookies Dave Sopp and Tracy Smith.

Turning in fine efforts for the Twins were Mike Lane with an excellent relief performance and rookie Keith Abernathy who made two sparkling plays at second base.

Tigers 12 - White Sox 3

On Saturday afternoon the Tigers sent another pitcher to the mound for the first time in his little league career, and he came away with the win. After a shaky first inning where three errors were committed in the field, 11-year-old Ian O'Neal went three full innings to pick up the win. The Tigers spotted the White Sox three runs in that first inning on singles by rookie Chris Eggert and Jeff Brodie. However, the Ti-

All Stars Bow In Finale

By Rick Harrison

Andover All Stars combined eighth and ninth grade team did itself proud in its final game of the 1982 tournament basketball season, giving the strong Holland Community School of Roxbury-Dorchester all it could handle before bowing 62-60 in the quarterfinal round of the Arlington Spring Basketball Festival held at the Arlington Boys' Club.

That setback completed another highly-successful overall tourney campaign for the six Andover All-Star teams, who encompass more than 50 players aged 10 through 16 in grades six through 10.

The teams won five tournament championships, reached the title game on three other occasions, battled to the semifinals five times and only twice failed to win at least one game in a tournament.

The overall Andover All Stars record this spring was 37-11, and in the past three years Andover All-Star teams have won 10 championships and constructed a 63-19 records.

Among the more memorable efforts were a 41-39 double-overtime victory against Wakefield in the title game of the Greater-Boston Pre-Teen Tournament (seventh grade), a 44-42 victory over St. Augustine's of Lawrence in the title game of the Lawrence JCC Tournament (seventh grade), a 75-73 win over Orchard Park of Roxbury and subsequent 84-80 overtime victory against Crowley's in the Lexington Tournament (eighth-ninth), a 70-69 triumph over Joe's Restaurant of Brockton in the Arlington tourney (eighth-ninth), a superb come-from-behind 36-35 victory over Buddies of Lexington in the New Bedford Tournament (eighth grade).

Holland, 62-60

The first time the Andover All-Stars eighth-ninth crew faced Holland in the semifinals of the Lexington Tournament, the Roxbury-Dorchester team used a devastating second half fast break to chalk up a convincing 77-47 victory.

Last week in Arlington it was the same Holland squad, while Andover was forced to compete, with just seven players because several kids on the local team had conflicts with school baseball games.

Andover totally shut down the Holland fast break this time around. The Roxbury-Dorchester team did manage one fast break bucket in the first quarter, but every other attempt ended in a stolen pass or a turnover forced by the Andover defense.

What the beefier Holland crew managed to do was work the ball well inside for some easy lay-ups, and they also shot extremely well from the free throw line.

Andover held a 23-20 advantage in fieldgoals, but Holland swished 22-of-31 free throws to Andover's

All Stars

Andover exhibited a great deal of patience on offense, dictating the game's tempos most of the way.

Holland enjoyed leads ranging from six to 12 points through most of the contest, and till held a nine-point advantage early in the fourth period.

Andover began chipping away in the final four minutes, led by Tim Perry, Dan Sheehan and Chris Bartley, and the locals appeared to have Holland on the defensive when time ran out.

Perry once again led the Andover All-Stars' offense with 26 points, while Joe Hart pumped in 12 points. Sheehan 10, Dough Rotondi 7 and Bartley 5.

Beau Jones contributed a solid all-around effort. Rotondi and Hart held their own off the boards, and Sheehan chipped in his usual superb defensive performance by hustling all over the court.

Members of the eighth-ninth grade team unable to attend the contest were Billy Lane, Steve Gemmell and Larry Aiello.

Lee Apgar

Apgar Stars At Dartmouth

Lee Apgar, an Andover native, has been having an outstanding season for the Dartmouth College lacrosse team. The senior midfielder leads the Big Green in scoring with 18 goals and eight assists through the first seven games. His 11 points in Ivy League contests rank him eighth in the league scoring race.

The quick 185-pounder has been a driving force behind the Big Green's current 6-1 record and five-game winning streak. Dartmouth is off to its fastest start since Coach Dud Hendrick guided the laxmen to a 9-0 record in 1977. The Green is looking to be ranked among the top ten teams in the nation after knocking off Adelphi 10-7. Adelphi, the defending NCAA Division II national champion, was sixth in the nation prior to playing Dartmouth.

Apgar began the season on a high note, scoring four goals in an 11-8 victory over Delaware and has maintained that torrid pace throughout the season. The midfielder's quick feet and knack for penetrating to the net make him a scoring threat whenever he handles the ball, reports Coach Hendrick.

"Lee is a strong candidate for All-American honors," said Hendrick. "Other teams have been keying on him, so Apgar has been concentrating on getting assists lately."

The Andover player was named Ivy League Player of the Week for his performance against Pennsylvania on April 17. In the Pennsylvania contest, Apgar scored three goals, including the winning shot that gave the Big Green a 12-11 double overtime win.

BOW: goalie Marc Bolan for some fine saves.

Andover Flyers 2 Topsfield Strikers 3

With less than a full complement of players, the Flyers were challenged by Topsfield throughout the contest. Topsfield scored twice in the first half and Andover responded with one. BOW: Mary Beth Nelligan and goalie Allison Neely.

Andover Braves 0 North Andover Squires 0

At the end of the first half, the scoreboard read 0-0. Andover Sweepers 0 Topsfield United 6

In a re-match with their arch rivals, Topsfield, the Sweepers found the competition just as tough. Topsfield kicked in a total of 6 goals before the final gers settled down behind O'Neal over the next two innings and he gave up only two singles to Kannan and Eggert.

In the fourth, Scott Wallace came in and closed the door the rest of the way. The only hit he gave up was a hard double in the bottom of the sixth by White Sox catcher Mark Duncan. In picking up his second save of the season Wallace struck out seven of the 11 batters he faced.

On the offensive side John Moossa paced the attack as he went four-for-four with three singles and a double and scored three runs. He was followed by Wallace who was two-for-two with a single, double and three runs scored. Veteran Dave Vickers continued his torrid hitting as he went two-for-three including a big triple to deep center field.

Rookie rightfielder J.B. Burgess also joined the attack as he picked up his first two hits as a Tiger and also had a stolen base.

Centerfield Doug Howes made the defensive play of the game with a brilliant catch going to deep right center field with runners on second and third.

Tigers 9 - Indians 1

On Tuesday evening Tiger hurlers, Mike Hein and John Moossa, combined for the team's second no hitter of the season against the Indians.

Through the first three-innings Moossa and Indian hurler John Glynn were hooked up in a tough pitching dual with the Bengels holding a slim 2-1 lead on only one hit. However, a big six-run rally in the top of the fourth put the Tigers in front for good.

From here southpaw Mike Hein came in and pitched the final three innings. He didn't allow a runner to reach first base as he struck out seven batters.

Leading the 11-hit attack for the Tigers were veterans Andy Pauline (three-for-four), Moossa (three-for-four) and Steve Howes (two-for-four). Others collecting hits were O'Neal, Hein and Vickers.

Indian short stop Matt Pothier turned in a fine effort in the field for the Tribe.

Tigers 8 - Orioles 2

On Saturday morning the once-beaten Tigers took on the undefeated Orioles in their first confrontation of the year. When it was over the Tigers, behind the 17 strike-out performance by John Moossa, handed the Orioles their first loss of the season.

In going the distance Moossa simply overwhelmed the Oriole hitters all day. While walking only two batters, his pinpoint control allowed him to keep the hard-hitting Orioles off balance for most of the day.

In the second inning Chris Concerni led off with a seeing-eye single between first and second. However, he was left stranded as the next three batters all fanned.

In the sixth, with one down, Oriole power-hitter Alan Reeder connected on a 1-2 pitch and sent a Moossa fastball over straight away centerfield for his third home run of the year.

The Tigers scored four runs in the second, two in the third and single runs in the fourth and fifth to ice the victory.

In the second, back to back doubles by Ian O'Neal and Dave Sopp started the Bengels off on a four-run inning as the Tigers sent nine men to the plate.

In the third after a walk and a single by Paul Salafia, shortstop Scott Wallace sent a towering two-base hit to the gap in right center, scoring both base runners.

In the fourth and fifth, aggressive base running and solid singles by Vickers and Moossa accounted for the final two runs.

Short stop Kevin Henderson and catcher Craig Knight turned in strong efforts for the Orioles in the field.

For the Tigers, rookie Mike Tiberii made a fine running catch on a sinking drive to left center for the final out of the game.

Tigers 5 - Yankees 4

Catcher Tim Smith's sacrifice fly and first baseman Paul Davis' two-run homer in the first inning gave the Yankees a quick 3-0 lead over the streaking Tigers.

In the second, after a base on balls, Tiger catcher John Moossa stole second and third to set up his team's first run. After one out Ian O'Neal drove home the run with a sacrifice.

In the fourth the Tigers pulled into a tie without the benefit of a long-base hit. Two errors, two bunt's and a sacrifice fly brought in the tying run.

National League Race Tightens

By Dan Grams

After three weeks of Little League baseball, the Cardinals have fallen from the ranks of the undefeated; the Dodgers and Cubs each won a pair of ballgames while the Braves held on to a share of second place with a big win over the league leading Cards.

Pirates 12 - Mets 2

The Pirates picked up their first win of the season with an impressive 12-2 victory over the Mets. Jim Tacy was the winning pitcher tossing a three-hitter. He struck out a season high 11 batters in his stellar five-inning stint. Jim-McAllister came in to mop up in the sixth.

John Lutz was the hitting star for the Pirates, slamming a double and triple to drive in four runs. Steve Hanely had two hits for the Mets, while Chris Patten was a standout behind the plate.

Cubs 9 - Giants 6

John Russell threw an impressive three-hitter in a route-going performance to spark the Cubs past the Giants 9-6. He struck out eight, while walking just two and allowing only three earned runs.

The Cubs enjoyed a big night at the plate with a 13-hit barrage. Mark Tucker cracked a three-run homer, while Jim Hendry ripped three hits. Davey Lopes also had a pair of hits.

Dodgers 12 - Mets 2

It was just one of those days when the Dodgers could do no wrong. The Dodger hitters banged out an impressive 15 hits while pitchers struck out an equally impressive 12 batters.

Todd Patti and Mark Elephanti each had four hits to lead the Dodger hitters and both hurled three innings. Andy Shea took the loss for the Mets giving way to Peter Trede, who also had two hits.

Dodgers 12 - Cubs 5

The Dodgers continued their hot hitting with a 13-hit attack enroute to a 13-6 romp over the Cubs. Todd Patti, Mark Elephanti and Peter Adams had the big Dodger hits. Mark Tucker (two hits), Mark Russell, Jim Hendry and John Russell had the five Cub hits.

Little League

The Yankees took the lead back in the top of the fifth when Pat Breen got his second hit of the day and went to second on an error. Second baseman Josh Malitsky followed with a double to right to give the Yanks a 4-3 lead.

With a runner on third Bengel ace Scott Wallace came in to force the next batter to ground back to the mound for the final out of the inning. Wallace later struck out the side in the top of the sixth.

In the last of the sixth the Bengels sent the heart of their batting order to the plate. After an error, three walks, one run in and one out, the Tigers had runners on second and third. Then 11-year-old center fielder Doug Howes came through with a single to left scoring the game winner for the Tigers.

The Yankee battery of Pat Breen and Tim Smith played exceptionally well all day. Breen was the hard-luck loser for the Yanks as he pitched a very strong game, giving up only three hits. Wallace, O'Neal and Howes stood out defensively for the Tigers.

Instruct League Underway

This year, the eight year-old-league Little League consists of five teams, the Braves, Tigers, Expos, White Sox, and the Cardinals. There are 64 boys and girls participating. The eight-year-olds basically have the same rules as the Major Leagues, but there are a few exceptions. Since this league is the town's instructional league, more emphasis is placed on learning than winning. The managers and coaches have been teaching the basics, throwing, catching, hitting, and fielding, with some good sportsmanship tossed in. Right now the season is in its third week.

It is still too early to tell which team is the strongest however, every team has experienced the thrill of victory at least once.

innings), Tom Tormey (two innings) and Pat Breen (one inning), combined to pitch a three-hit shutout over the Tigers.

The Yankees scored all their runs in the third inning. The combination of four hits, aggressive baserunning and three Tiger errors produced the four Yankee runs.

Malitsky led the Yankee attack with two hits. Breen (double), Tormey (double) and David Jaye were other hitters.

David vickers, Ian O'Neal and Doug Howes collected the Tiger hits. Scott Wallace and O'Neal shared the mound duties. Tormey was the defensive star with several nice plays at third base.

Red Sox 7 - White Sox 1

Backed by the combined three-hit pitching of Kevin Foley and Greg DeVoir, the Red Sox downed the pesky White Sox 7-1 to remain in the thick of the American League's first-half pennant race.

Foley and DeVoir combined to strike out 10 White Sox hitters while Red Sox batters reached White Sox hurlers for eight hits, which sandwiched around five errors and four walks, proved to be enough.

The Red Sox took the lead in the top of the first with one run, pushed across two in the second and one in the third before putting the game away with three in the fourth on the strength of singles by Foley and Mike Manning and a long double to deep center by Matt Gibson. The Red Sox hitting attack was paced by Manning with two hits and Gibson, Foley, DeVoir and John Slavin with one each. For the White Sox, Mark Duncan collected two singles and Peter Kannam, one, to pace their attack.

The Red Sox second base combination of shortstop Gibson and second baseman Danny Fay turned in a number of fine fielding plays up the middle while White Sox centerfielder Kevin Newman shone on defense. White Sox hurlers Mark Schwetz and Chris Eggert pitched well but were the victims of some inconsistent fielding and deserved a better fate.

Red Sox 5 - Twins 1

The Red Sox erupted for three runs in the top of the first and held on from there to defeat the stubborn Twins 5-1. Kevin Foley and Danny Fay led off with walks and back-to-back hits by Matt Gibson, Greg DeVoir and Steve DeVoir accounted for the three Sox runs. The Sox threatened further damage, but were retired with the bases loaded, the first of three times during the game. They added one more in the second as Gibson walked and stole second then advanced to third on Greg DeVoir's fielder's choice and proceeded to steal home, sliding under the pitcher's throw.

The Twins bounced back with their sole run in the bottom of the third on a single by Chris Lane, walks to Eddie Sheehan and James Berberian and a fielder's choice. The final run was scored by the Sox in their half of the sixth on a walk to Mike Manning and a single to center by Chris Landers.

Steve DeVoir started on the mound for the Sox and went the distance twirling a solid two-hitter in picking up the win. He struck out eight and walked only three. To Sheehan, Chris Lane and Keith Abernathy shared the mound duties for the Twins, allowing six hits, striking out six and walking 10.

The game featured several outstanding fielding plays by the Sox, most notably a running one-hand catch in right by David Milne, a diving catch of a pop-up by second baseman Danny Fay and a falling down grab in deep right by 10-year-old Wade Ward which, if allowed to fall, would have brought the Twins to within one run of the Sox. Shortstop Mike Lane's stab of what appeared to be a solid single to left was the Twins' defensive highlight of the game.

Orioles 11 - White Sox 1

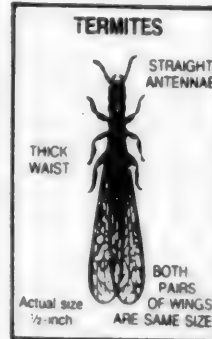

The Orioles scored seven runs in the first inning enroute to their fifth victory in six starts. The final score was 11-1 over the hard-luck White Sox.

Kevin Henderson led the way with three base hits, including a double. Chris Nelson also doubled and finished with two hits and two RBIs. Allan Reeder, Chris Concemi, Geoff Wood, Hugh Maginnis and Patrick Kelley all added timely base hits to the Oriole attack.

Reeder (no hits, no runs) and Kelley shared the mound duties for the Orioles with Reeder credited with the win.

Andover, Valley Banks Exploring Merger

By John P. Sawyer

Although it's only in the beginning stages, The Andover Savings Bank and the Valley Cooperative Bank are exploring the possibility of a merger that would bring their combined assets to more than $267 million.

"We are in the very beginning stages...," said Valley Bank Vice-President Jeremy D. Russman. "We feel it's worth exploring. We look at it as an opportunity."

Robert M. Henderson, president of the Andover Savings Bank, called the possible merger "two strong banks coming together to provide better services."

A bill in the state legislature, which would in part allow for the merger of cooperative and savings banks, must first pass before the two institutions can consolidate. Then approval of various regulatory authorities would be needed. It is possible the two banks could merge within one year if the legislation passes, according to Henderson.

"We're just on the first step of 50 steps," he said.

Russman noted, "We're hopeful the bill does pass."

Some bank mergers have already come to pass, and others are being discussed, and according to the president of the Andover Savings Bank, "There's going to be a consolidation of financial institutions (in the 1980's)...The whole financial scene is changing."

To compete in the industry, explained Henderson, banks must be big enough to offer the expertise to meet banking challenges. He also said deregulation of financial institutions has resulted in some banks providing the same kinds of services.

Russman said bank growth has been traditionally through deposits, but the future will hold more emphasis on growth through mergers. He said this "will be a trend, and I think it's a trend for the better," providing more opportunity for both institutions involved.

Russman explained that one reason banks merge is because of size; he said a merger between the Andover Savings Bank and the Valley Cooperative Bank would make them sizable.

Economies of scale is another factor in bank mergers, and an Andover Savings-Valley Cooperative merger would also help out in this way, according to Russman.

Andover Savings Bank operates offices in Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Tewksbury. The Valley Cooperative Bank operates offices in Lawrence, Andover, North Andover and Methuen.

Aberdeen Apartments in Shawsheen

Aberdeen Apartments Go Condo

Andover's Aberdeen Apartments and Townhouses, in the process of being converted to condominiums, held its grand opening last weekend, according to Marketing Manager Emily Flynn, who said the units are ready for interested persons to come in and take a look.

This first-class reinforced concrete fireproof structure was built in the late 1920's by the founder of the American Textile Co., William M. Wood, and was used as a shelter during the second World War.

The property is located at 354 North Main St. approximately two blocks south of Rte. 495 on Rte. 28 and in the heart of the Shawsheen Village area.

Its French colonial exterior and spacious mirrored lobby will be restored with all common areas being refurbished and redecorated and the installation of a sundeck on the roof. Laundry rooms will be placed on each floor for easy access, and the electrical system will be completely upgraded and modernized. Large storage areas are being provided on the lower level.

The units themselves are being completely renovated with new kitchen appliances and European style cabinets and ceramic tile baths with vanities. They feature abundant closet areas and oak hardwood floors, and their large windows and spaciousness lend a bright and cheerful feeling.

Aberdeen's location boasts easy access to all places with a bus stop at its front door, according to Flynn, who cited this as one reason for marketing success thus far, with 40 percent of the units already sold before last weekend.

She also cites Aberdeen's "Beacon Hill, historical, old-world charm" and "spacious" accommodations. Financing of 10 percent annual interest rate during the first year and a unique 25 percent tax investment program in certain situations are available.

A wide variety of units are available from studios, one and two bedrooms to two, three, four-bedroom townhouses and ranging in price from $29,900 to $139,000. With the price of land and houses in Andover so high according to Flynn, Aberdeen condominiums provide an attractive opportunity.

Thus far, she says, clientele have included mostly professional single persons, young professional couples and "empty nesters."

Aberdeen is being developed and marketed by Condominiums Inc., the first to develop and market a new condominium in this state. Since that time, it has been involved with over 3,500 units throughout New England and is considered one of the foremost in the industry.

"Why am I so enthusiastic about the new 944 Porsche? Perhaps it's our most aerodynamically-optimized Porsche engine. This innovative, 143 hp, 2.5-liter aluminum powerplant can propel you from 0-50 mph in just 5.9 seconds."

"Or perhaps it's the computer system that provides optimal values for both the electronic ignition timing and the fuel injection."

"Or perhaps it's the long list of standard equipment that includes air conditioning, power windows, a sunroof, and cast alloy wheels."

"As you can see, there's no end of things to be enthusiastic about in the new 944 Porsche. And that should come as no surprise. After all, at Porsche, excellence is expected."

With "two major figures missing" from the authority — Walsh and Wallace — "I just felt I should continue my commitment," Powell said this week. "I understand the problems the housing authority is going through right now."

The governor recently offered Powell another five-year appointment to the housing authority, she said, but she turned down the offer. Instead, she will probably run for election to the rest of Wallace's term, which expires in March of 1984, when her current appointment expires next year.

"I feel a very deep commitment to the town. We've lived here for 14 years, our business is here, our family has grown up here."

She and her husband, Henry Powell, own and operate the Powell Corp. in Dundee Park, a small manufacturing company. They are the parents of four children, two of them students at Andover High School.

A graduate of Merrimack College with a degree in psychology, Powell has "always been involved in the Andover community," she said, serving with such organizations as the League of Women Voters and parent-teacher organizations.

Of her new appointment, she said, "It's nice to be back. I'm happy to have the job, and I will give it the maximum amount of time that it requires." She predicted a busy summer ahead for the authority.

5% OF THE TIME,
THE SAAB APC TURBO IS AS GOOD AS ANY OTHER TURBO ON THE ROAD.
THE REST OF THE TIME, IT'S BETTER.

All modern turbos are designed to work well under the worst possible driving conditions. With low octane gas or in hot, dry weather, for example. The problem is that you encounter these conditions only about 5% of the time you're on the road.

The other 95% of the time, conventional turbos just don't live up to their full potential. The solution to this problem is the 1982 Saab Turbo with Automatic Performance Control. When conditions are normal, which is most of the time, APC automatically increases boost pressure. Resulting in a 10% increase in torque, an 11% increase in mileage and a 0.60 mph time that's a full second faster. Plus an immediate increase in driving pleasure.

There's no question that building a turbo to stand up to potential problems is an intelligent thing to do.

But buying one that can live up to its full potential is even more intelligent.

The finale of the American Children's Theatre's tenth anniversary season, "Oliver!" will be presented at Manchester's Palace Theatre on June 11, 12 and 15 for five performances and is sponsored by the Salem Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Manchester Division.

Written by Lionel Bart and freely adapted from Charles Dickens' classic "Oliver Twist," this new revival of the award-winning show will be the third time A.C.T. has presented this musical. The previous production in 1980 launched the career of New Hampshire's Bridget Walsh, who is now starring in the national tour of the Broadway hit musical, "Annie."

Play Area

They note, "It is our feeling that our general area is both lovely and unblemished. Our homes are well cared for and have been very costly for us to buy and to maintain. We live here because we love the woodiness, the quiet, the privacy and the absence of any intrusion on our way of life."

They list these other reasons for opposing a playground:

FEASIBILITY: They say a playground is probably not feasible in the area because of the distances children would have to travel and the consequent danger. Parents would have to drive them to the playground, they say, "and it seems preferable to drive the children to a friend's home where neither safety nor supervision would be a problem."

NEED: "The area is not an 'inner city' area where children have no place to play. They all have substantial yards, and many children belong to country clubs or youth organizations."

The playground opposition group claims, "The idea is the whim of a few people who are conveniently somewhat removed from the proposed sites, and are either unaware of or uncaring about the problems and heartaches they are inflicting others."

They claim that those who have at first expressed interest in the playground are "no longer in favor."

Pearson said several persons from West Andover came to her to discuss the possibility of a playground, and she agreed she would look into the matter and see whether a playground would be allowable and land usable. She sent the interested residents, who said they would discuss the idea with their neighbors, to the Community Development and Planning Department.

Pearson said this was the first time she had received "any complaint" about the addition of a playground anywhere, noting, "Most people (in general) want a neighborhood playground."

She said West Andover is growing faster than any other part of town.

"People in West Andover have very little in the way of services," she explained, adding she thought that end of town was "deserving" of consideration.

"The whole concept was clearing a bit of land," Pearson said, so that children would have organized playground activities on weekday mornings, as is the case at other town playgrounds. "The whole concept was very low key."

She added that site being considered was intended for use as a school, and that a playground wouldn't be a greater use, noting that sites other than town-supervised playgrounds have been the usual "hangout areas" for youth.

"It's quite a distance to travel out there" for children in West Andover to frequent the West Elementary or Sanborn playgrounds, according to the community services director.

But Pearson did note that, "Most playgrounds are on school sites," adding that, "I'm sure some of their (opposers') concerns are valid in developing any area."

She said, "It's their prerogative if they feel this way. I sympathize with their great concern. I hate to see people so upset."

Pearson said the idea of a playground is just in the beginning stages and something to look into. Yet the letter of opposition, she said, gives her "no one to respond to," because it is unsigned.

The letter includes a postscript which reads: "The omission of our names is unavoidable. This is a very awkward situation. We are a close-knit neighborhood and do not wish to have a war. Please forgive us."

Why Nevins?

Because we care? Because we have a new wage scale? Because our benefit package is outstanding? Because we pay you for 40 hours, when you work 37.5? Because we are the most modern health care facility?

Of course all of this is true. But everyone says that. Then, WHY NEVINS?

- Because we listen and understand our staff, their needs and ideas.
 - Because our benefits are for your benefit and to utilize responsibly. For example, sick time may be used for illness of a school age child when a babysitter is unavailable.
 - Because we appreciate quality performance with reasonable, well thought out policies and benefits.
 - Because every manager has had experience in the job you are doing.
 - Because our supervisors are a working member of the team.
 - Because we are developing a medical media center and are the only nursing home with a medical advisory group.
- We strive for excellence.*

Now accepting applications for the positions:

REALTOR

FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

A government study uncovered the fact that of all people over the age of 65, only 6% are financially independent. All of the lucky 6% became so because of prior investment in real estate.

A good start on the road to your own financial independence is through ownership of a home. It's the soundest long-term investment you can make. Today, real estate is one of the only investments for which the average buyer can receive a long term loan of 20 to 30 years because the lenders know that the security for the loan is a good one. The homeowner pays something into this loan every month which gives him more and more dollar ownership each year. The portion of the monthly payment which goes for taxes and interest is deducted from his taxable income.

Best of all, the value of your home normally more than keeps pace with the cost of living. This could mean that once your loan is paid off, the selling price of your home is double or triple what it was when you bought it.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

association, according to Seifert, meet twice a year with the superintendent and more regularly if the need arises.

"If people follow established processes, then that's their right," he says, noting it's "much more productive." "When you circumvent established procedures, I think that's inappropriate."

It's "not very reasonable," according to Seifert, when the only time someone speaks up is when somebody does something you don't like. He says the longer discussion over budget cuts continues, "the more it tears the school system apart."

But Seifert says, "I think Mr. Grasso owes it...to present a plan he thinks can do the job. Where's the plan?"

Grasso notes, "I don't think you have to have more people (administrators) to be efficient. Let's cut at the top."

He says department heads, while teaching classes, once did the "same job" that advisors are doing today. "Teachers have not been helped by the increases in support personnel," he maintains.

"I don't think I'm talking through my hat," Grasso says about his views on school administration.

Jazz Band Ball

The Castle Hill Foundation presents its second annual Jazz Band Ball on Saturday, June 12, at the Crane estate in Ipswich.

For four nostalgic hours, the estate's concert barn will become the "Make Believe Ballroom." Well known for their authentic arrangements from the 1930s and '40s, the Ted Herbert Orchestra will re-create the original sounds of Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, and many more.

The Jazz Band Ball is a special pre-season event to benefit the 1982 Castle Hill Festival concert series which opens on July 3.

"I'm not grandstanding," he says, concerning any relationship between his timing and his candidacy for state representative.

He says he has always been involved with community issues. He says three years ago he did a survey on heat loss in the high school. He picketed for teacher rights in the 1970's.

"I've always been a fighter all my life," he explains.

Grasso says there's still time to make changes in the school budget.

"Money can be reapportioned in the budget," he says, adding that he wonders how many "personnel up there (at the Shawsheen School, where school offices are housed)" are sitting on "(the) edge of (their) seat" wondering if they will have jobs next year, as many teachers have to wonder.
